Inspection Garments - Acknowledgement and Agreement Statement

Corporations and Businesses (Inquiring Parties) requesting inspection items should read the following together with the Acknowledgement and Agreement Statement. If you complete and submit the Enquiry Form and request inspection garments, it will be taken that you have read and accept our terms and conditions. If you do not wish to comply with our terms and conditions please do not submit the Enquiry Form.

Because our FR and AR solutions are specialised, we do not provide free samples. However, we appreciate PPE investment requires due diligence. For this reason, ArcFlashWear assists Inquiring Parties by allowing items to be visually inspected. Inspection should be taken to mean the visual deciphering of colour, fabric, features, style and manufacturing quality.

Inspection should not be taken to mean for example, prolonged wear or controlled hazard testing. As noted below, Inquiring Parties who render inspection items unfit for purpose agree to compensate ArcFlashWear for the current end user price plus GST.

Inspection items must not be worn and manufacturers' labels and information must remain attached without degradation. Inspection garments must be returned to ArcFlashWear within one (1) week of delivery (in the exact same condition as dispatched by ArcFlashWear) by registered Australia Post with full value loss or damage insurance.

Acknowledgement and Agreement Statement
